With reference to the attached cutting from the "Shanghai Times" of April 6,1932 containing an article entitled
"Russian Emigrants and Fur East " Enquiries show that the information regarding a former Russian Grand Duke's expected arrival in Shanghai in connection with plans for the creation of a "buffer state" in the Maritime Prevince, is entirely unfounded.

Moreover, it is regarded in certain Russian circles as a provecation on the part of the Soviet, with a view to once mere deneuncing the intrigues of the "White Guards" directed against the peaceful Preletarian Republic.

The eriginal information regarding the two former Russian Grand Dukes- Dmitry Pavlovitch and Nikita Alexandrovitch proposed trip to the Far East appeared in the "Harbin Times", a pre-Japanese newspaper published in the Russian language in Harbin. It was republished on March 31,1932 by the "Vechernee Vremia", a local Russian evening newspaper, as " an information from foreign sources in Harbin". On April 1, an article appeared in the "Shanghai Zaria"- another Russian newspaper published by the same editor, Nr. Lembich. The Shanghai. - to the effect that the report in the "Vechernee Vremia" had been confirmed by a telegram from Paris, according to which the Grand Dukes' proposed trip to the Far East was in connection with General Gaida and the movement in favour of the establishment of a "White buffer state" in the Maritime Prevince.

The absurdity of the above report was made sufficiently clear in the "Slove" leading article of April 2,1932 entitled "Stupidity or Provocation". It was pointed out in this article that General Gaida's connection with agents of the Messew G.P.U. had been denounced in Russian newspapers in Paris

GRAND DUKES DMITRY PAVLOVITCH AND NIKITA ALEXANDROVITCH COMING TO SHANGHAI

Information of a private character from foreign sources in Harbin has been received to-day, to the effect that the Grand Dukes Dmitry Pavlovitch and Nikita Alexandrevitch are expected shortly to arrive in the Far East from Europe.

According to this information the two Grand Dukes are undertaking this trip in confermity with instructions from Grand Duke Cyril Vladimirovitch and with a view to obtaining first-hand information regarding Russian Emigrants living in the Far East.

The Grand Dukes Dmitry Pavlovitch and Nikita Alexandrovitch are two of the most prominent members of the Romanev Dynasty participating in the active work of unification of Russian Emigrans but at the same time their activity in exile has been very diserrete erect and they abstained from joining any particular political group or organization.

It is of interest to note that Grand Duke Dmitry Pavlovitch after visiting the Far East intends to remain in Shanghai for a prolonged period.

The two Grand Dukes will travel incognite.

THE OBJECT OF GRAND DUKES' PROPOSED ARRIVAL IN THE FAR EAST.

The report of "Vechernse Vremia" received from foreign sources in Harbin, regarding the Grand Dukes Dmitry Pavlevitch and Nikita Alexandrovitch proposed trip, has been confirmed by a telegram from Paris addressed to a certain political organization in Shanghai. The telegram also mentions the Grand Dukes' intention to visit Shanghai.

The telegram was received from Professor Vsevolodoff, Paris representative of General Gaida, who when requested from Shanghai, gives information on decisions adopted in certain political circles in connection with the movement in favour of the establishment of a "White Buffer State" in the Far East.

It appears from the telegram that this movement has taken a concrete form and that about April 20, the Staff of the future organization will leave for the Far East with General Gaida at the head, who will be released from gael on April 7 after having served a sentence of imprisonment for his political activity in Czechoslovakia. It also appears from the telegram that one of the Grand Dukes will be at the head of the movement.

It is believed in the circles which received the above telegram, that "General Gaida's Staff" will arrive here about the middle of May.

With the arrival of this Spaff as well as with a general animation in Russian emigrants circles, is connected the fact that the Japanese banks have delayed payment of Y.1.500.000 to Ataman Semenoff and to the Peasants' Union, as was reported in another telegram received yesterday.

It is said that the question of payment of the above sum will be decided after the arrival of "General Gaida's Staff" in Japan en-route to Shanghai. Then the question will be decided as to who shall receive Y.1.500.000.

of ar article from the "SHANGHAI ZARIA" of March 2 7532 entitled :-

After too short an existence the "Association of Russian Residents in Manchuria and Mongolia" has fallen to pieces. The majority of the initiators and founders of this association have published a declaration to the effect that they have resigned from their posts in the Central Governing Board, and in the Governing Board of the Mukden branch.

This declaration is considered by leading Russian circles in Mukden and Harbin as being an outcome of a wrong conception of the nature of public work on the part of the association assa whole, as well as on the part of the majority of its individual leaders.

The association came into existence immediately after the events in hanchuria in order to utilize the natural impulse of the local Russian population to unify themselves and participate in the construction of the new state.

This idea ,quite sound in substance, was however carried out in an improper manner.

Several persons who have no connections with the large masses of emigrants, attempted to bring about the unification on their own initiative and to place the Russian population before an accomplished fact. Several public workers attempted to exploit the situation in order to monopolize the right to represent the emigrants.

Mukden, where comparatively few emigrants seside, was made the centre of the new association and Earbin, where the masses of the Russian population are concentrated, was left on the boundary.

No wonder that this attempt met with an opposition on the part of leading emigrants' organizations in Mukden and especially in Harbin.

Noreover, it became swidently executly that the attitude of the Chinese and Japanese circles towards the association was unfavourable, although rumours had been spread by representatives of the association to the effect that they had the support of these circles.

After all these facts had come to light, the members of the Central Governing Board became alarmed. A number of resignations followed, with the evident tendency to sever connections with the association as soon as possible.

At the present time the association is in a state of self-liquidation, and its existence may be considered as terminated.

The declaration signed by seven principal members of the asseciation reads as follows:-

"We, the undesigned members of the Central Governing Board and the Governing Board of the Mukden Branch of the Association of Russian Residents in Manchuria and Mongolia, being partisans of a true unification of Russian emigrants, disapprove of the discord caused by tactless and illegal acts of the President of the Central Governing Board who disregard the opinions of members of the the Board. We decline every responsibility for his acts and for the acts of other members of the Board who are in Harbin and who thereby make it impossible for the Governing Board to exercise control over Therefore, we decided to resignefrom the posts of members of the Central Governing Board, the Governing Board of the Mukden Branch and the membership of the association of Russian Residents in Manchuria and "ongolia.

" RUSSIAN RAILWAY GUARDS IN MANCHURIA RECEIVE BATTLE BAPT

The formation of the ferst Russian detachment for the purpose of guarding the Mukden-Shanhaikwan Railway aprears to have brought good result.

More volunteers for similar detachments are being recruited in Earbin at present. The second and third companies of the detachment having been brought up to the full strength will be despatched shortly for service, while the fourth companie is in a state of formation.

Conditions of service - $ 50 per month, free rations etc. - attract many Harbinlanders who were unable to find employment. The majority of recruits are ex-service men of Marshal Chang Chang Chang's army.

The Russian detachment wears the same uniform as the Japanese gendarmerie. Upon enlistement they receive Yen 30 and a free passage to the place of service. The bulk of the detachment is concentrated at Goubantsze tation on the Mukden- Shanhaikwan Railway.

Relatives of the volunteers in Harbin have been informed that the detachment has already received baptism in battle. The first enargement took place in the region of Goubantsze station where the detachment met a sang of bandits twice as strong. After a short fight the bandits fled after losing considerable number of their men. There were no casualties on the part of the Russian detachment. The second fighting took place when a Russian vanguard met a large gang of bandits who were armed with machine guns. The Russians suffered seven casualties on this accasion, it is reported. The names of killed and wounded men are not known yet as no official information has yet been received regarding the latter fight.

Moscow Charges Japan With War Move On Russia

Semi - Official Istvestia Alleges Discovery Of Documents Outlining Invasion Plans; Red Far Eastern Defenses Being Strengthened

MOSCOW, March 4.—(Transocean)—Revealing the fact that Russia is preparing for any overt military move on the part of Japan and employing extremely candid language in doing so, Istvestia today broke the reserve hitherto maintained by the Soviet press in commenting on the trend of developments in Manchuria. The semi-official journal frankly charges Japan with preparing for war upon the Soviets and as frankly tells Tokyo that Moscow is preparing for any and all emergencies and means to win such a war, if ever it should materialise.

Though the direct occasion of the sensational declaration of policy is a statement made by a spokesmen of the Tokyo Foreign Office, accusing Russia of plotting against Japan, it is quite obvious that the Soviet Government has only availed itself of the opportunity for setting forth its views on the matter and for defining once for all its attitude towards Japan which, the editorial is especial to emphasize is essentially one of peace.

"From the every outlet of the conflict," the semi-official organ insists, "the Soviet Union adopted an attitude of firm neutrality. There can of course be ne doubt of the sympathids of all tollers in the Soviet land for the Chinese pecple, pauperised and brutalised by imperialism. But these sympathies for the Chinese workers and passants in the Chinese workers and passants in the policy of non-interference which is but the logical result of the general policy of peace pursued, by the Soviet Union. Thanks to this persistently neutral attitude of the Government towards Munchurtan developments, all the provocative and standerous attacks against the Soviet Collapsed one after another. Citing the Spanese claim of Red troop massing around Vladivostok, the semi-official organ declares that, "the Soviet Union, after a careful analysis of the facts, thinks it imperative to strengthen its border defences and, particularly, increase its garrisons along the Far Eastern frontier line. We do not of course have any intention of concealing all this. The Soviet Government which pursues an open and consistent policy of peace has no reason whatever to hide from the masses its estimate plainly shows that the least the Soviet Union can do in the present situation is to take all necessary and all possible measures for the protection of the inviolability of her frontiers against any attack."

"We cannot ignore," the journal adds, "the fact that responsible representatives of military circles in Japan, and highly placed officials as well are openly discussing the question of an attack upon Soviet Rusia and the annexation of the Maritime and Baikal Provinces. Indeed, we are in the possession of the minimal properties of the manating from the inchest Japanese military circles setting forth plans for an attack into Soviet Russia and the seizhire of Soviet Territory."

War Plans Alleged

Istvestia then goes on to quote from these documents. One paragraph states that "of the question of whether Japan should make war upon Russia. The same document, according to istvestia, states that "it is quite possible that despite our strategy, our crushing blows and our tendency to bring the war to a speedy conclusion, it might for a variety of reasons prove difficult to terminate the war in full accord with the plan of action as outlined elsewhere. We should, of course, advance as far as Lake Balkal, but at the final point of our war operations, there will of our war operations arise an important question. should then advance to the West but the detaits of this advance must be determined by the general situs-tion obtaining at that time and will particularly depend upon the situation of the powers which will ad-vance from the West. Emigre Scores Whites In Manchuria For "Treason"

PARIS, March 2.—(Transocean).

—White Russian activities in Manchuria were denounced today as "unpatriotic" by the former Russian Fremier Millukov and now the recognized leader of the democratic Russian emigres in addressing a closely packed meeting of emigres.

M. Miliukov fervently expressed the hope that the Soviet Union would be strong enough to defend Russia's interests in the Far East in the event of any war-like developments there. He and his friends would always be found on the side of Russia, irrespective of what government was in power there, the former premier insisted, after which he scored those emigre circles who were hoping for a defeat of Soviet Russia, if the present tension between the two countries should result in an explosion. Such an attitude, the speaker insisted, was incompatible with true patriotism, as were the efforts of certain White Russians in Manchuria to ally themselves with the Japanese, efforts which M. #### Japanese Organize "White" Russian Army

The Japanese military authorities have established an office in the Hongkew District for the purpose of recruiting "White" Russians to assist in the military operations at Shanghai. This is evidently due to the fact of the heavy casualties sustained by the Japanese forces during the recent engagements with the Chinese defenders.

375 "White" Russian troops, who were fully armed, arrived here from Diaren on board the s.s. "Changchun Maru" on the morning of February 25. These troops have been well trained by the Japanese and will be used in an attack upon Soviet Russia. Owing to the Japanese troops in Shanghai having come despondent, these "White" Russian troops were sent here to cheer them up and to assist them materially.

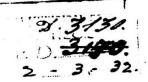

Maturity of Japanese Anti-Soviet Plans.

Telegram from Moscow:- The Japanese are organzing "White" Russian armies in the Liao-Ming(Fengtien) Province, evidently for the purpose of launching an attack upon the coast provinces of Soviet Russia in the Far East. These armies will be placed under the direct control of the Japanese.

The recruiting is being secretly carried out by a White Russian General named Kosmin who is acting under the instructions of the Japanese. The registration of unemployed "White" Russians through the Harbin Daily News, a Japanese subsidized newspaper, is merely a camouflage to cover the recruiting of "White" Russian troops in Harbin. Although the actual number of recruits is unobtainable, it is reported that, in one month's time, several parties from 50 to 100 each, were enlisted and sent to Mukden for training. Arms have been supplied by the Japanese. Two brigades will be organized first, and they will be commanded by White Russian Generals named Mandarakin and Motosloff.

It is report, that when the White Russian troops commence their attack upon the coast provinces of Soviet Russia, the Japanese troops will start activities along the Western boundary of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

The Harbin "Zaria" reports that Russians with military training will find employment in the newly formed state.

They are being recruited for the formation of a detachment to guard railways and various districts in Manchuria from roving bands of demoralized elements.

A large Aviation Detachment composed of Russians is being formed in Mukden.

An aviation school is being established at which Eussian experts will deliver lectures to Eussian young men.

It is reported that a Russian aviation determent a Eussian aviation school will be established in Harbin.

There is a sufficient number of Eussian aviation experts in both towns.

The Harbin aviation detechment and school will be established only after the result of the progress of similar astablishments in Mukden becomes known.

1) RUSSIAN DETACHMENTS TO GUARD PEKING-MUKDEN HAILWAY

The administration of the Peking-Mukden Railway intends to entrust the task of guesding a part of the railway track and important stations between Mukden and Shanhaikwan to a Russian detachment specially formed for that purpose.

The question of forming such a detachment has been already decided, in principle, by the administration of the railway and the Japanese Military Authorities, but the details of the project are still under consideration.

Recruiting of Russians for the new detachment has already commenced and the first group of 150 Russians has arrived in Mukden.

According to information from reliable Japanese sources, the first group of Russian guards will be stationed at the Sinmintun, Koupantsze and Chinchou stations of the Peking-Mukden Railway.

The detachment will be organized along the lines of gendarmerie troops and will protect the sections of the railway entrusted to their care.

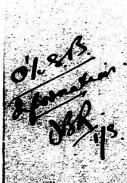

The conditions of service in the new detachment ere not known yet.

It is reported that the administration of the Peking-Mukden Railway will supply the necessary funds.

out the Far East and in Europe.

With reference to the attached cutting from the " China Press" of January 22,1932 entitled " French Dispatch says Japan will invade U.S.S.R.". I have to state that since the beginning conflict in Manchuria on September 18,1931, the possibility of an armed conflict between Japan and the U.S.S.R. has formed the subject of an animated discussion in White Russian circles through-

> In this connection it will be of interest to note the polemics which took place recently between the two

Russian newspapers in Paris, the intellectual centre of Russian

Japan and the U.S.S.R. would prove detrimental to the interests of national Russia.as it may result in the loss of a large part of Russian territory in the Far East: Russian emigrants therefore. are requested to abstain from co-operating with Japan. which is conflict may result in a war between the two countries and possibly, in the establishment of a " buffer state" in Russian territory east of the Lake of Baikal with a Russian national government and under the protectorate of Japan with the object of separating her possessions from immediate contact with the U.S.S.R.

- 2 -Being fully aware that the plans of Japan may in certain points be detrimental to the interests of national Russia, the group represented by " Vozrojdenie", nevertheless, looks forward to a war between Japan and the U.S.S.R. firmly believing that this war will present a unique opportunity for the Russian peale to rise and overthrow the Bolshevist Rule. When the government of the U.S.S.R. will be compelled to mobilize and arm large masses of the Russian population, the latter will undoubtedly turn the arms against their oppressors. The " buffer state " will only. be the first serious step towards the restoration of national Russia through temporary dismemberment of the U.S.S.R. Therefore, Russian nationalists should seize the opportunity presented by the situation in Manchuria in order to intensify their activities against the Soviet government.

It is believed that these views .which met with considederable opposition in Paris, will receive stronger support in the Far East where the Russian population is more immediately interested in the trend of events. The nervousness with which the Soviet press discusses the slightest rumours regarding the activity of the Russian " White Guards" in the Far East seems to confirm this belief,

According to our information the following Russian political groups in Manchuria are more or less associated with the Japanese: -

1) The followers of Ataman Semenoff, whose pro-Japanese attitude since 1918 is so well known that he is considered to by acting on the instructions of the Japanese Government. The headquarters of this group is at present in Mukden, On January 14.

General Seminov, the once tamous leader of the White Russians, reached Kobe recently in the liner Balkal Haru, and immediately left for Tokyo. He is reported to have stated. The object of my present trip to Japan is to carry back to my colleagues in Manchuria the good news that I am endeavouring to secure or have established the right of domicile and protection for the 150,000 White Russians now living in Manchuria and who will, no doubt, come under the new Manchurian regime which is now being established. I expect to discuss these affairs with my associates in Yokokama. I also want to deny the rumour that I am running a shop in Mukden as absolutely unfounded. Major Haratani, of the Manchurian Special Service, arrived in the same vessel.

Challenge To Capitalism

MOSCOW, Feb. 22.—Defiance was hurled at the capitalist world to day in a manifesto issued on the occasion of the 14th anniversary of the Red Army, by the Revolutionary War Council and signed by Comrade Voreshiley. Commissions sary of War.

After exhorting both the army and the civil populace to be prepared for all emergencies, the manifesto scores the imperialist Powers insisting that they are feverishly preparing for a new war, while cameulaging their preparations with empty words about peace and disarmament. The so-called disarmament conference," the manifesto states, opened to the accompaniment of the boom of cannon on the Pacific seaboard. While, from the rostrum of the conference, the spokesmen of the imperialist Powers talked with their tongued in their cheeks about peace in the Far East, bombs were raining there on a defenceless population towns were being destroyed by all the implements of modern war and the implements of modern war and economic life was completely paralysed, while thousands of toilers and their, families perished miserably.

The imporialists, the manifesto goes on to charge, are preparing in new war against Soviet Russia. Under a berrage of lies, slander and misropresentation, plans are being perfected both in the West and in the East, for a crussele against Soviet Russia. Bands of White Russians are being organized, with the 'support of yarious Powers, to act as the vanguard of intervention and are now openly preparing for a campaign to select preparing for a campaign to seize the Maritime Provinces."

In conclusion, the manifesto states that the policy of the Soviet Union always, has been, and always will be, one of peace. At the same time, however, it behoves us to remain on guard. The disarmament conference notwithstanding, the international situation now, more than even a frameth with the international situation now, more than every is fraught with eminors possibilities. The war Japan is waging upon China is the best proof of that The Red Army will protect the Soviet Union in any and all circumstances. It will any and all circumstances. Summarized translation of General Dieterick's appeal to White Russian Emigrants, which appeared in local Russian newspapers on January $1, 1932.

For the third time during the past few years the Far East is again the scene of events which might have a great influence upon the realization of the national aims of White Russian emigrants. For the third time these events arise, develop and pass by leaving us unmoved by their tremendous importance, while we are still standing before the closed door to our country, which we left ten years ago.

During the Sino-Soviet conflict of 1929 we were not unified and had no means to enable us to take an active part in the events, or, as an independent force, engage in the struggle against the communists. We were compelled to rely upon the help of China in the realization of our national aims. The help, of course, (did)was not forthcoming so the event passed by.

In 1930 a revolt against the Soviet Rule broke out for the provinces of the Russia, Far Fast. Our participation in it, our direction and our help might have been of immense importance for the development of the nationalist movement on Russian soil. Hundreds of thousands were required and we collected only $5,000. The movement was suppressed and the events of first importance passed by without any consequence. Again we relied upon the help of foreigners and foreigners in turn helped the Soviet by granting credit to them.

At present, in 1932, the Japanese action in Manchuria, in the zone which is in immediate contact with the USSR, presents a unique opportunity for finding ways of realization of our national aspirations, of extending our help to our brothers suffering under the communist yoke. Large funds, willions of deliars are required for this puncture and, we are STIII expecting that these funds will be supplied by others including Japan.

Notwithstanding the hysterical outcries of Moscow Bolsheviks that they "will not surrender even a single inch of the territory of the USSR to their enemies", they will, in order to keep their power over Russia, sign another disgraceful treaty similar of the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty rather than be involved in a war. To force the bolsheviks to resort to arms and, consequently, to arm large masses of the Russian population, - is a task which can be accomplished by Russian emigrants only, as White-Russian anti-Soviet organizations alone, independently of its question of their numerical strength, possess a unique inner power, present a menace capable of shaking the very foundation of the Red Despot's rule in the territory of the former Russian Empire.

Therefore, the problem of unitying our efforts is more pressing than ever at present, as well as the necessity of raising our own National Fund. We must not forget that in all possible cases of solution by the Japanese of their historical problem, the problem of financing the Russian national movement can be solved by Russian emigrants themselves only.

Pointing out that events of a decisive character are likely to take place in May 1932 and that at least $4500.000 will be required for the support of the struggle against the communist oppressors, General Dietericks appeals to all Russian emigrants, whereever they live, to contribute to the National Fund addressing their contributions either in his same, No. 154 Route Pere Robert or to the Tonds de Secours?, Banque Franco-Chinoise Changes; He expresses to hope that having certain funds, Russian, emigrants in the Far Fast will be able to find ways of rendering active assistance to the Russian people in its struggle for the national revival.
